

Scene Presentation

Directions: Read through the different roles needed to present your scene. Decide who will take responsibility for each role.

- Playwright - puts the action in sequence, writes ideas for lines
- Director - guides the actors in their understanding of their roles and how the scene will be staged, and when, how, and where the actors will move.
- Designer - gathers the costumes and props, sets the stage for the scene
- Stage Manager - records the decisions made by the others, reminds others what was done before, records jobs and members of group.
- Actors - interpret the playwright's ideas, listen to the director's guidance, and move through the designer's universe.

Now it's time to brainstorm your ideas for how your group will portray the scene.
