

Oral Presentation

Student Name: _____

Assessment	3	2	1
Relevance of information	Information was directly related to the topic.	Information was somewhat related to the topic.	Information was not related to the topic.
Uniqueness of Information	No one in your group presented the same information.	One other person in your group presented the same information.	Two other members of your group presented the same information.
Clarity of Presentation	Everyone in the class understood the presented material.	Some people did not understand the presented material.	Many people did not understand the presented material.