

Critical Thinking: Who is Eligible to Vote?

Student Name: _____

Knowledge and Comprehension	Research and Analysis	Presentation and Assessment
Do you know: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• what are the main responsibilities of the President?</li> <li>• who is eligible to run for the office of President?</li> <li>• where voters cast ballots?</li> <li>• when presidential primaries are held? List three facts that make the primaries important to the electoral process.</li> <li>• how someone becomes eligible to vote?</li> </ul> Sample concepts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Do we have a two-party system? How do “independent” candidates receive a nomination?</li> <li>• How important do you think advertising is to a political campaign?</li> <li>• Which form(s) of media (newspaper, radio, television, or film) do you think is most influential during a presidential campaign?</li> </ul>	Use a combination of Web sites (see Sources section of lesson) and “Questions on Voter Eligibility” worksheet to research, discuss, and analyze the electoral process.	