

Assignments for Group Work

Meet in your artists group. Assignments must be chosen and you may have more than one assignment depending on the size of your group.

Each group will decide:

1. Who will represent the artist?
2. Who will help with costume design?
3. Who will mat the pictures and set up the display?
4. Who will videotape the segment?
5. Who will write the interview questions?
6. Who will be the interviewer?

Once decided each person in the group should be assigned duties relating to their job positions.

Descriptions of the Jobs:

Artists will answer questions about the artwork (needs to understand his/her own artwork as well as the artwork for others in the group). Act, and dress like the artist during art show and videotaped segments.

Costume Designer will research what clothes might have been worn by the artist and provide the closest appropriate attire.

Framer/Set Designer will provide appropriate mats for pictures or stands for sculpture and place accordingly for the filming and interview.

Camera Person will film the segments and edit, if possible, into a video to be shown to the school.

Writers will prepare interview questions based on the artist and the works of art and the time period of the artist.

Interviewer will pretend to be a reporter and ask questions of the artist. Questions will be from a script that the writer of the group has prepared.
